

Head Coach Seton Sobolewski

Seton Sobolewski recently finished his 11th season at Idaho State and is the winningest coach in program history. In his tenure at Idaho State the Bengals won the 2012 Big Sky title, played in the 2012 NCAA tournament and played in the 2013 and 2019 WNITs. The Bengals have participated in the Big Sky tournament in every season under his direction.

Sobolewski was named the Big Sky Coach of the Year for the 2011-12 season. He previously served as an assistant coach at UC Riverside and was a major contributor to the Highlander's success as a Division I program that has a Big West regular season title, two Big West Tournament titles, two NCAA appearances and a near tournament upset of No. 8 Arizona State in 2007.

Benefits of the Bengal Girls Basketball Camp

Campers will have the opportunity to train with and receive instruction from a few of the most experienced and successful coaches in the Big Sky. Sobolewski, along with his assistant coaches, combine for over 40 years of Division I college coaching experience, multiple Big Sky and Big West regular-season and tournament championships along with multiple trips to the NCAA Tournament and WNIT.

All campers will:

- Train and receive instruction from current ISU coaches and players
- Receive a camp t-shirt and customized Bengal basketball
- Have fun!
